2007 Season Outlook

Cleveland McCoy 2007 Pre-Season All MEAC Second Team

2007 SC STATE OUTLOOK: "100 Years of Bulldog Football (1907-2007)

South Carolina State will celebrate its 100th year of football during the 2007 season, and the Bulldogs will do it amid the school's most ambitious schedule ever. SC State, which has never faced a major university on the gridiron, will take on two Division I-A (Football Bowl Subdivision) opponents this season. Coach Buddy Pough's team opens the 2007 campaign at the Air Force Academy on Sept. 1, and two weeks later, travels forty (40) miles up I-26 to Columbia to face intrastate rival University of South Carolina for the first time on Sept. 15.

Between the two Division I Football Bowl Subdivision teams, the Bulldogs must travel to Daytona Beach to take on Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference rivals and perennial power Bethune-Cookman, the team that handed SC State its worst loss last season.

The Bulldogs are expected to be competitive during this historic season as they will put a seasoned team on the field. Forty-Three (43) letterwinners, including twenty-six (26) on offense, return from the 2006 team which, after a 1-3 start, bounced back to win six of its last seven contests to finish 7-4 overall and 6-2 in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference, a second-place tie in the league standings.

The Bulldog offense will be directed by a senior quarterback, the interior line is a seasoned one, the running game – despite the loss of the league rushing leader – is expected to be strong, and the receiving corps is talented, despite a somewhat youthful look.

On defense, where seventeen (17) letterwinners are back, SC State will not have the overall experience of the 2006 squad, however, the unit is expected to be more talented and should emerge as one of the league's most productive.

The defensive line, which took some heavy losses, will be seeking an identity, however, the young group that will be without any seniors, has loads of talent; the linebacking corps is experienced with four starters returning, and the secondary suffered just one loss of note.

In the area of special teams, SC State lost a reliable placekicker and a punter who shared punting duties last year, however, an all-conference caliber placekicker from two years ago is back. There is a little uncertainty in the punting department, however, that could change.

SC State has shared one MEAC title (2004) since Pough succeeded the legendary Willie Jeffries in 2002; however, the Bulldogs have not been able to get to the I-AA playoffs. That could change this season as SC State is expected to be among the teams to beat in the MEAC this year.

Quarterbacks

Cleveland McCoy returns for his senior season. A preseason All-MEAC candidate, McCoy is only one year removed from the 2005 season in which he led the MEAC in passing and was a first-team All-Conference selection. His production dropped off a bit in 2006 when he had to learn a new system, however, he will be starting for the third straight year. A team leader and very determined, McCoy is expected to improve on last year's showing in which he completed 94 of 183 attempts for 1124 yards and 10 touchdowns, while suffering nine interceptions. Reserve duties will have to be provided by newcomers as both backups from last season will not be available. Russell Hemby, the top backup at the position in 2006, has moved to the secondary, and Bryan Hardy, who saw limited action behind center, transferred. Freshmen Malcolm Long (Mr. Football in the State of South Carolina last season) and DeWain Clark are both very talented and will battle for the chance to backup McCoy.

Running Backs

All-MEAC rusher DeShawn Baker, who finished his career second on the school's all-time rushing list, is gone, taking with him a lot of experience, however, the talent level of the 2007 group should keep the Bulldog ground game near the top of the MEAC. Sophomore Will Ford, who trailed only Baker in yards gained last year, will spearhead the young group, which will be helped by the return of Jonathan Woods, who redshirted last year after a 2005 season in which he was the team leader in touchdowns and finished second to Baker in yards gained. Help should also come from senior Jo Jo McFadden, sophomore Travil Jamison, and redshirt Jeff Brooks, who was moved from the secondary in the spring to provide additional depth.

Fullbacks & Tight Ends

Expect to see somewhat of a mixture at the fullback and tight end positions. There is plenty of experience as everyone who saw action last season returns. Heading the group are redshirt seniors Spencer Miller and Darris Jackson and redshirt junior Rolandas Breland, a trio of tight ends. Each caught a touchdown pass last year at the tight end position. Miller also lined up at fullback at times and was very effective as a blocker. Expected to bolster the tight end position this year are transfer Octavius Darby, who possesses loads of talent, and redshirt junior Carlos Gonzalez, who provided reserve duty last year. Although there were few handoffs to the fullback last season, the Bulldogs have talent at the position in senior Evans "Boo" Capers, an outstanding blocker who returns after missing most of last year with an injury, and redshirt senior Richard Yeargin, the top reserve in 2006. Redshirt Kenneth Smalls will provide quality depth at fullback. The Bulldog fullbacks and tight ends are expected to be used more in the SC State offense in 2007.

Wide Receivers

The Bulldogs lost three veteran receivers last season in Gerald McCloud, Kelley King and Chris Burgess, who combined for 42 catches for almost 600 yards. The 2007 group will be relatively young, but will include the top receiver in 2006 in redshirt junior Dusten Dubose, who as a reserve last season, had 18 catches for 201 yards and a score. Also back are sophomores Terrance Smith and Oliver "Tre" Young, who will add excitement with their big-play ability, along with redshirt junior Byron Bush, junior Dominique Henry and redshirt sophomore Matt Washington. The wide receiver corps will be strengthened by the addition of transfer Phillip Morris, and talented newcomers Thomas "Tray" Williams, Latron Jackson and Chase Robinson.

Redshirt-Junior Wide Receiver Dusten DuBose

Offensive Line

The SC State offensive line will be without two-time All-American tackle Clyde Reed, the MEAC Lineman of the Year in 2006, however, this year's group will be the most seasoned and deepest offensive line in the Buddy Pough era. Four starters, who have a combined 100 starts, return from what arguably was the best line in the MEAC last year. Behind Reed and two other All-MEAC selections – junior center Raymond Harrison and redshirt senior guard James Lee – the line accounted for a MEAC-leading 242 yards a game on the ground, fourth best in the nation in Division I-AA. Returning starters joining Harrison and Lee include redshirt senior tackle Nate Richardson, who has started 33 consecutive games, and senior guard Derrell Pringle. Also back are redshirt sophomore guard Travis Ashford, who saw action in all 11 contests in 2006, and redshirt sophomore tackle Devon Dawson, who played in eight games. Expected to add depth to the line are redshirt junior tackle Nygel Pearson, who missed all of last season with an injury, redshirt sophomore Casey Fortune, newcomers Josh Harrison, Johnny Culbreath, both of whom were redshirted as freshmen last season, and Jake Johnson and Shenaniah Thompson, two true freshmen.

Defensive Line

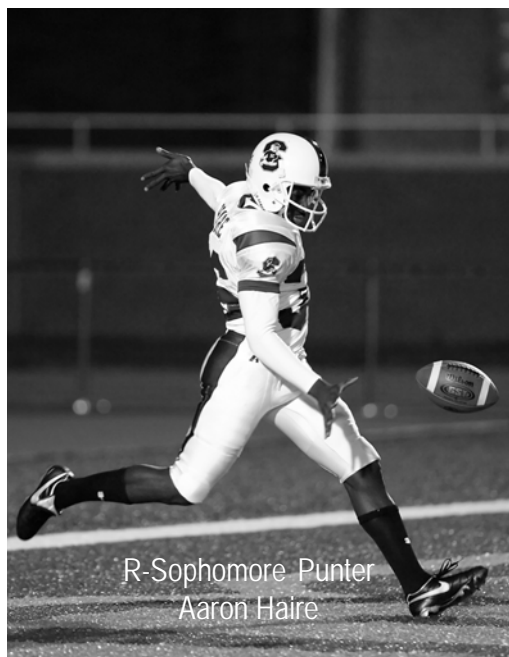

The Bulldog defensive line was hit hard by graduation as the SC State front will be without All-MEAC performer Eric Turner and two other starters in Calvin Epps and DeLorean Shaw. The 2007 line, then, enters the campaign seeking an "identity." A young group with no seniors, the line will not be short on talent but must come together quickly. Redshirt junior Xavier Littleberry, perhaps the most talented returnee in the group, junior Keyon Brooks, who moves into a starting role at tackle, sophomore Markus James, and redshirt junior Cedric Lloyd, who has been a surprise since being moved from tight end two years ago, will have to provide the leadership. Littleberry is one of the most gifted linemen to play at SC State, while Brooks, who has been moved inside to capitalize on his quickness and experience, is expected to be among the league's top linemen this season. Sophomore Matt Key and junior James Simmons contributed last year and should battle for starting roles in 2007. The line will be bolstered by redshirts Sterling Blunt, Jason Ayers, Patrick Brooks, Sam Chester and Chad King, a group short on experience but loaded with a lot of talent. How quickly they develop will be the key to how productive the Bulldog defensive line will be this season.

Linebackers

The linebacker position should be one of the most productive units on the SC State 2007 squad. Patrick Reed is the lone player of note not returning. Expected to anchor the linebacker corps will be junior Tony White and sophomore David Erby, both of whom started last year and were among the team leaders in tackles. Also returning with experience will be redshirt senior LaTavis Henderson, who was a solid reserve and saw action in 11 games during the 2006 campaign, and sophomore Ryan Potts, who played in nine contests. Also expected to contribute at the position this year are redshirt freshman Antwann Gamble, a converted safety who had a surprise spring at the new position, redshirt senior Dana Graydon, who saw action in six contests in 2006, and Josh Lucas, a very talented player. Freshman Julius Wilkerson, a highly-touted recruit, could also contribute at the position.

Defensive Backs

The Bulldog secondary is one of the deepest positions on this year's squad, with the knowledgeable Thomas "TJ" Stanley and Stephon Gore as the only losses from 2006. The group that returns has played one full season together and possesses loads of talent. Dog safety Marshall McFadden, one of the most talented players on the squad, spearheads the group and is joined by cornerbacks Bailey Brinson, a redshirt senior and sophomore redshirt Terrance Allen, along with safeties Markee Hamlin and LaQuinn Ellerbe, both redshirt sophomores. Expected to play significant roles as reserves are Phillip Adams, who has been moved from safety to cornerback, redshirt sophomore Travance Jackson, senior Stephon Gore and redshirt freshman Reggie McNeal. Depth will be provided by redshirt sophomore Desmond Benjamin, who made the switch from running back to the secondary, redshirt freshman Ricky Young, redshirt senior Russell Hemby, the top backup at quarterback last year, before switching to defense in the spring and sophomore redshirt Rafael Bush.

R-Sophomore Punter
Aaron Haire

#5 Junior Defensive Back Marshall McFadden

Special Teams

SC State will be without steady placekicker Mike Gaston and punter Chris Dupree, who shared the punting duties last year, but can take heart in the fact that sophomore Stephen Grantham, who handled the placekicking duties as a true freshman when Gaston broke his leg in the preseason, is back after missing all of the 2006 campaign. Grantham is very talented and has a strong leg. The punting situation, a bit uncertain a year ago when Dupree and freshman Aaron Haire were both tried at the position, should be a little more stable in 2006 as Haire made great strides in the spring and is expected to be productive as a sophomore. He could get some competition in the fall from newcomers. Long snapper Kelvin Colclough is experienced and steady, while DL Cedric Lloyd is a very capable backup. The kickoff return duties will be handled mostly by RB Will Ford, who had one kickoff return for a touchdown last season, while WR Dominique Henry will be the primary punt returner. Both possess great quickness and speed.
